EDMONTON — The incoming speaker of the California Assembly and newly sworn-in Assemblywoman Toni Atkins, an Orange County Democrat who is an architect, said Tuesday she will not attend the State of the State address at the State Capitol in Sacramento this week because she doesn't see a big enough need in her district for a lot of the proposed new spending. "I don't have a problem with the concept, or the idea, but I think the needs in my district are best served by addressing the budget through the same responsible methods of the last several years," said Atkins, who will take office Jan. 8. Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger will deliver the annual address at 10 a.m. Thursday. Atkins was chosen by her Assembly colleagues to replace Assemblywoman Carole Migden, a La Canada Flintridge Republican who resigned from office in December. Atkins, a political newcomer who received the endorsement of the San Francisco Chronicle in the 48th Assembly District race last year, is a master's student in architecture at UCLA who is also a licensed builder and real estate broker. In the nearly two years she has been in the Assembly, Atkins has proposed a bill requiring Santa Ana to adopt an ordinance regulating fertilizer, and one to ban dogs from swimming pools. On the House side, a few waves will be expected for incoming Speaker John Perez, a San Francisco Democrat who will be one of the chamber's two vice presidents.
